Valley library to hold open house

Carmel Valley's library is all settled and comfortable in its new location and will welcome guests at open house both Friday afternoon and Saturday. Children who wish to accompany their parents to the library may do so on Friday between 2 and 6 p.m. Youngsters who desire to browse along are invited to stop in during the day on Saturday. Refreshments will be served both times.

Librarian Marge Ibsen showed The Outlook a letter received from Lois Koolwyk, county librarian, which spoke of the recent move into the new quarters. Excerpts from Mrs. Koolwyk's letter stated: "... most of your library is now in order and much of it is due to the wonderful help from so many good people in the Valley who pitched in, moved books, and helped in so many ways to a quick settling of the library which our meager staff could not have accomplished in weeks."

"We hope we can repay them to some extent by the improved library service."

Marge added her own heartfelt thanks to so many volunteers who assisted in the re-vamping and reorganization of the new library facilities.

"Wine and Roses" will reign at traditional Valley party

Wine and roses are normal fare for lions these days as the night of the annual "Wine and Roses Ball" approaches. Saturday night, Valleyites and friends will attend the third gala party sponsored by the Carmel Valley Lions Club.

Dancing will begin at 9 p.m. and continue to 1 a.m. at Rippling River Resort. The De Marias will provide the danceable music.

Proceeds from the festivities will benefit the Carmel Valley Community Center and tickets will be available at the door as well as from various stores in the Village, Lions Club members and Community Center board members. Admission is $1.50 per person.

Planned, as it traditionally is, to celebrate the season of St. Valentine, decorations will be hearts and flowers...and, of course, the bubbling wine glass which made its initial appearance at last year's party. Lloyd Todd has constructed a wine bottle to keep the glass filled and this will be the highlight of the Rio de Oro room.

Stained glass windows to be dedicated at Community Chapel

At the 11 a.m. services at the Carmel Valley Community Chapel on Sunday, Feb. 19, the stained glass windows will be dedicated. The eight windows facing Village Drive were made possible by donations; some group effort, some in entirety, some anonymous, some in memorium, but all in the interest of beautification of the chapel.

Theme of the windows installed just in time for the Holy season depicts the life of Christ. Beginning with the Lamp of Knowledge, symbolic of the Boy in the temple, to the Last Supper as shown by the shaft of wheat and grapes, through the Crucifixion.

Rancho Safeway design approved

The design for the new Carmel Rancho Safeway was approved last week by the county Planning Commission. The point of contention on the design was the roof, because of the mechanical equipment and vents which protruded.

Supervisor Tom Hudson had requested a design study because of the unattractive view presented to residents of Rancho Rio Vista and Carmel Knolls. All equipment and vents will now be screened from sight behind grapestaking.

The present Carmel Rancho Safeway store will move into the new larger 30,000 square foot building from the one it now occupies.

The project was done by the Board of Directors of the Chapel with Don Brill in charge. They commissioned Merrill Stained Glass Studio of Los Angeles to do the work with the design done by Cartwright, the son of the craftsman who designed the main window of the church and the side panels. This son was familiar with the structure and type of windows so it seemed fitting that he carry on the family tradition.

Stated Brill, "The Board is extremely grateful to the members of the congregation and those outside the church who have made this beautiful addition possible."

The public is invited.

Phone hike asked

In requesting the highest increase ever reported by a utility in any state, Pacific Telephone has asked the California Public Utilities Commission (PUC) for rate hikes which would up one party residential rates in Carmel Valley from $4.90 to $6.00 per month base.

Basic business service rates in the Valley would be raised from $9.75 to $13.95, making an increase of $4.20 per month.

An earlier announcement by Pacific Telephone stated that they had a "desperate need" to increase the rates in order to expand and improve the state's telephone service.

Noted Navy man succumbs after lengthy illness

ADM. ARTHUR G. ROBINSON

Death came to a well known and respected Valley citizen recently when Vice Admiral Arthur G. Robinson (USN ret) passed away at Fort Ord hospital, after an extended illness.

Adm. Robinson made his home in Los Ranchitos with his wife, Elizabeth Cameron Robinson. His sister, Marion Wilson, is the owner of the White Oaks Inn and Gallery in the Village.

A long and varied career which covered a period of over 40 years marked Adm. Robinson's Navy duty.

He served through World War I and during World War II received the Navy Cross and promotion to rear admiral after the heroic feat of bringing his ship, the USS Marblehead, home to port after an attack by Japanese bombers. The Marblehead was extensively bombed, caught fire, and left without rudder on Feb. 4, 1942. Adm. Robinson delivered her to an east coast port, 3 months and 13,000 miles later.

Adm. Robinson also commanded the Allied Forces in the Caribbean and took charge of the Naval Operating Base in Trinidad.

After retirement in 1951 he came to Carmel Valley.

His widow, Elizabeth, is the author of a number of children's books.

CUSD presents Questions and Answers on override tax

(This is the second of a series of four features on the March 7 school override tax.)

QUESTION 8: Is it true that Carmel Unified School District with an existing .50 override tax in effect until June 30, 1968, still has a lower tax rate than Pacific Grove Unified School District's tax rate without any override tax?

ANSWER: Yes, the Education Code states that a school district expending under $600 per child may levy .55 more on the tax rate, without a vote of the people, than districts that expend over $600 per child.

QUESTION 9: Has the assessed valuation continued to increase each year?

ANSWER: Yes, the assessed valuation has increased by an average of 5.5% per year for the past five years. In 1962-63, the assessed valuation was $56,974,350 and in 1966-67 the assessed valuation is $72,565,475.

QUESTION 10: What has the growth pattern been over the last five-year period?

ANSWER: The District has grown an average of 94 students or 3.4% per year between 1961-62 and 1965-66. Total growth during the five-year period was 472 units of average daily attendance, (including Adult School the District has grown 527 students).

QUESTION 11: If the School District needed a tax increase last year and still needs one this year, why was the pupil transportation system reinstated for 1966-67?

ANSWER: The transportation system was reinstated because of the serious safety problem involved in 600 children having to get to school the best way possible. It would have been necessary for children to walk along busy and dangerous roads and to cross busy highways. The net saving to the District would have been approximately $6350, or less than .06 per day per child who would be normally transported. The financial gain simply wasn't worth the risk to our children.

QUESTION 12: Were the budget cutbacks in the athletic program and the transportation system and other minor cutbacks designed to hit the public where it hurts and were the cutbacks made with retaliation in mind?

ANSWER: Budgetary cutbacks as a result of the override tax failure were based on what had the smallest effect on the instructional program. Athletics (not physical education), transportation of pupils, cafeteria services, cutbacks in buildings, grounds and non-instructional equipment repair and reduction of reserves are about the only areas where substantial savings can be made without affecting the actual instructional program.

QUESTION 13: How did the schools of the Carmel Unified School District get in such poor condition from a maintenance standpoint?

ANSWER: The Governing Board has found it necessary to make a value judgment between cutting the instructional program or postponing maintenance work because of the lack of available dollars. We now find ourselves in a position of either maintaining or replacing some of our schools. Certainly maintenance is the logical answer.

QUESTION 14: If the electorate passes the override tax and additional funds are directed toward grounds improvement, what assurance is there that the grounds will be maintained properly?

ANSWER: A new grounds or gardening department has been established with a specific assignment made to the Supervisor of Buildings and Grounds that no new work shall be allowed until provisions for maintaining this new work is possible. Another important factor is that the District Administration will not permit any department, either instructional or non-instructional, to receive inadequate attention.

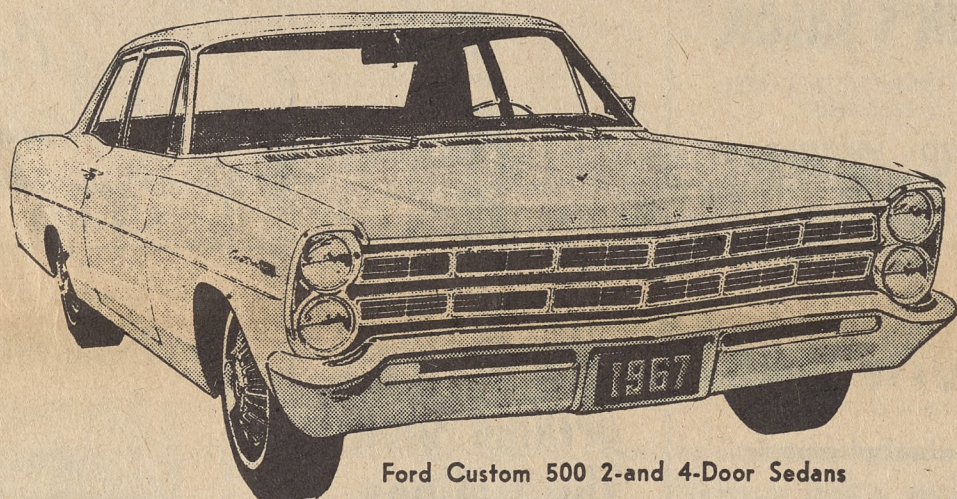

QUESTION 15: Is it true that the Carmel Unified School District has one of the highest assessed valuations in the State of California?

ANSWER: Of the 114 unified school districts in the State of California nine unified districts have more assessed valuation per elementary child than Carmel, and eleven unified districts have more assessed valuation per high school student.

Ego printing?

Magnificent and expensive government printing is an extravagance which has long annoyed us.

There was the extra excellent brochure which the Monterey County Anti-Poverty Coordinating Council recently issued, seeking applications for a new executive director. It was printed on 70 lb. book stock with pebble finish, very very nice stuff. A humbler printed piece would have done the job.

We disagree more often than agree with Gov. Reagan—particularly on his policies on state colleges and universities—, but on his intention to reduce state printing extravagance we say "Amen." We hope he maintains the policy of eliminating multi-color printing for state agencies.

We have often admired the beauty of—and winced at the cost of—the beautiful multi-color State Division of Highway magazine, printed on lush coated stock; it's a vanity piece of little interest to anybody outside of the highway department.

Those in the commercial printing industry appreciate that the addition of a second color on a print job about doubles the cost. Bureaucrats' egos aren't worth it.

Letters to the Editor

Cachagua viewpoint — praise

EDITOR: The satellite communication station planned by the government for the Cachagua would be a welcome project in my view. It would be clearly visible, directly across the road from my ranch, and 30 seconds away as the crow flies.

I will enjoy the bright lights because it might help to illuminate my place at night and discourage the roaming hunters and thieves who have been wandering over my property during the past six years.

I have had three horses shot and killed (one just before Christmas), one thousand dollars' worth of pigs butchered and taken off this ranch, equipment and tools stolen, fowl, livestock... and even a bathtub... taken.

If the area were more brightly lighted these malfactors could not enjoy their dark deeds!

The County Sheriff's Department seems inadequate to cope with the situation. Good law enforcement is a primary factor in making any area an enjoyable place in which to live.

As a property owner, I feel that a few government workers or scientists might lift the tone of Cachagua and give it a new look. There are a few places up here that could stand a new look.

The U.S.A. needs these projects for this good, great country of ours.

Mrs. Pearl Taylor

EDITOR: The centerpiece, week before last, on the geology trip to Yosemite illustrates ranger naturalist Norm Bishop's key word, "serendipity." Norm took photos of Half Dome during one of his high altitude ski trips in Yosemite Park.

The study and use of words is most fascinating.

SCHOOL NEWS

Aim ...teach students to think!

News from the schools this week features a report from Principal Orville Rogers of Middle School on the approach to the Social Science program.

Those who were unable to attend the last Parent-Faculty Club meeting missed a very informative report from our social science department at Middle School. There was some discussion at this meeting on controversial topics and their treatment in our classes.

I would like to repeat what I said at this meeting. "It would be easy for us to teach social science strictly from a textbook, skip all controversial topics (and what isn't controversial these days?) and never rock the boat. This would be dull, boring, lacking in stimulation, but safe!"

Anyone who listened to our students that evening or bothered to call us to get the facts about our program which includes outside films, speakers and field trips, could not help but get the impression that we are encouraging our students to think and speak for themselves.

Just last week our social science department presented two outside speakers. Mrs. Ginnie Drew (editor of The Outlook) spoke to the eighth grades about her recent trip to Russia. Mr. Burley Farber spoke to the seventh grades about his visits in Israel. The main feature of each talk was a question and answer period during which the speaker carried on a discussion with the students.

In answer to questions, Mrs. Drew commented on youth in Russia today and their similarity to young people in the Western World. She also described the marked friendliness and enthusiasm of Soviet peoples for the Americans. Mr. Farber described life in a Kibbutz where he lives for a part of each year. Much of his talk was concerned with the Sabras, native-born children of Israel.

The Parent-Faculty Executive Board met on Feb. 7 and has scheduled a general meeting of the Middle School Parent-Faculty Club for Tuesday, Feb. 21. This meeting will be on the override with Dr. Harris Taylor as speaker. Here is your opportunity to get the answers to any questions on your mind regarding our financial needs. See you there?

In Short

OVER $1,000 went down the drain for naught weekend before last when Carmel Valley's Ed Leslie flew to Daytona Beach to drive in the first Trans-American Sedan Championship race. "I didn't drive a foot," commented Ed on his return. The problem was that the Mercury Cougar which he was scheduled to drive had been wrecked on the Riverside, Calif., track the weekend before, and wasn't repaired in time. Oh, well... there are 10 more races in the series, in which Ed hopes to burn up some rubber.

SCHOOL WAS OUT for Carmel Valley's Owen Patrick, an electronics instructor at MPC, last week when he began a half-year sabbatical leave. He is planning to make a study of new techniques being used by Bay Area and Southern California electronics firms, and Eastman Kodak and Lawrence Radiation Laboratory at Livermore. He's writing a textbook on the subject.

EXOTIC GAME BIRDS, two lovely species of them, are to be released in Monterey County this month, according to our friends of the Fish and Game Dept. The foreigners will include 343 red-legged partridges, descendants of birds trapped in Southeastern Spain and 150 white-winged pheasants, natives of Southern Russia, Northern Afghanistan and Chinese Turkistan.

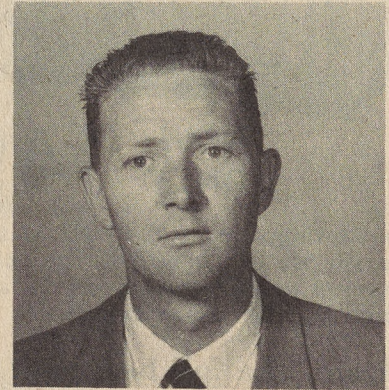

Part of a program to establish foreign game in areas where native species do not exist, these birds are supposed to like semi-arid foothills and valleys. We hope they'll be happy here.

COLE WESTON'S photo-portrait of Dr. Eric Berne of Carmel, whose best seller, "Games People Play" is sweeping the country, is being used by the Book-of-the-Month Club in their promotion campaign.

GRAEME HARRISON IS delighted to hear the noise of men-at-work at Carmel Valley Inn after the months of quiet since the Inn was badly damaged by fire. "Music to my ears," she calls it, while she watches the new lobby, kitchen and bar go up.

The exterior of the Valley landmark will not be changed, the manageress assures us, but the interior will be roomier and rearranged for easier accommodation. Faithful lodgers have been occupying the undamaged rooms all winter (the Inn was full for the Crosby) but new customers have not been encouraged and will not be solicited until all facilities are installed.

ANNA BURGESS, the distaff half of Origins, Inc., received a $50 award from Museum West of American Craftsmen Council at Ghirardelli Square in San Francisco. Out of 2000 entries, the judges picked 150, one of which was Anna's. The award was given in the weaving category for an architectural hanging with feathers incorporated in the weave.

PAUL NIELSEN

AT THE FIRST quarterly meeting of the Professional Gardeners Federation of No. California, held recently in Tiburon, Paul Nielsen of Carmel Valley Rd. was elected president. The membership of the group consists of those in the business of maintenance gardening.

Carmel Valley's Dr. Short begins Health questions, answers

By JAMES J. SHORT, M.D.

The most common question I have received concerns diet.

It seems that nearly everyone today is on a diet. Underweights are trying to expand; overweights are trying to contract; while normal weights are struggling to maintain the status quo!

I am often astonished at the enthusiasm displayed on the subject of food and the number of books written on the subject. Carrot juice still is popular and food blenders or juicers are still purchased, even if only to be set aside later. There is no one food which contains the elixir of life or which constitutes a fountain of youth.

Although many motives prompt people to undertake special diets, the one which is of paramount importance, and which should concern us most, is the health motive. Imbalances exist, which may lead to deficiencies and cause physical impairment, but these are generally due to ignorance of certain basic principles or to ill-advised attempts at dieting.

Food is both plentiful and still relatively cheap, despite the climbing food prices, so that our national sin is over-eating. Your food selections may be correct, but over-eating will, 'ere long, exact its inexorable penalty in failure of health. High blood pressure, heart failure, gall bladder disease, kidney disease, and diabetes are some of the more important physical impairments which accompany over-nutrition. And let no one suppose that he or she must become excessively overweight to suffer such penalties. It has repeatedly been shown that people from 5% to 15% over ideal weight begin to show serious impairment and death rates above normal.

Do you know that if you are 45 years old and 25% or more overweight, your prospect of continuing life to old age is only half what it would be if your weight were normal? Do you know that in extreme degrees of overweight, the mortality rate increases FOUR times the normal?

The most important organ to be affected by overweight is the heart... and after all you have only one heart! Perhaps that's why the wise King Solomon said, "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life." Solomon may or may not have known that there are nearly twice as many deaths from heart disease in the obese as in the underweights, but such is the fact.

The best overall principle to be observed, after a proper food selection, is abstemiousness—in other words, don't eat too much!

Stock market tip: McGraw Hill's local Calif. Test Bureau zooms

When most stocks have been sinking, one with local significance has been soaring.

Stock of the big publishing company, McGraw-Hill, of which California Test Bureau at Monterey Airport is a part, has gone up during the past year from $56 to $75.

What does this have to do with Carmel Valley and Carmel? Just that a lot of the brains which have stimulated California Test Bureau's growth belong to local residents.

Frank Fox, who has recently been promoted from its general managership to senior vice president of McGraw-Hill Book Co. and is moving to New York, has been living in Carmel Valley on Laurel Dr.

New general manager is Archie Lapointe of Carmel. Dr. Verna White, senior editor, lives in Rancho Rio Vista, at the mouth of the Valley.

Bill Satchell, manager of Test Bureau's big data processing department, is a Carmel resident. Operating 24 hours a day, its IBM 360 system is busy scoring tests, handling research projects, doing the company's billing and performing some jobs for outside customers.

In charge of machine test scoring by the IBM computer is Dave Mathews of Ford Rd., Carmel Valley. He reported that over 12,000,000 tests were scored this past year.

A few other Valley residents include John Holmes of Rancho Fiesta Rd., director of customer services, and John Hughes of DeAmaral Rd., special assistant to the general manager.

180 EMPLOYEES

With about 180 employees at present, California Test Bureau is steadily expanding. General Manager Lapointe said that plans are to add 22 professional staff members this coming year, chiefly for field work and for research and development. They will be professional experts, mostly PhDs or EdDs, psychologists and educators. Hardly ordinary salesmen, the field staff are mainly guidance and evaluation consultants to schools.

The Test Bureau's budget this past year reached $1,900,000, of which about $1,000,000 went for payroll. It expects to go up about another $300,000 during 1967, Lapointe disclosed to The Outlook.

"Dr. Willis and Ethel Clark, founders of the company 41 years ago, built this present 27,000 square-foot building in 1962 twice as big as their needs then, to allow for growth," Lapointe said. "Within two years it was crowded."

The Test Bureau is planning to gain more room by relocating its warehousing in the area. More than 1,110 different items are stocked in the large warehouse section of the present headquarters building in the Del Monte Research Park beside the airport. Warehousing for all the states west of the Mississippi is done here.

Most of its printing is done on contract by a large firm in Menasha, Wisc.

The Clarks moved California Test Bureau from Los Angeles to Monterey in 1960. Dr. Clark died two years ago; Mrs. Clark still resides in Pebble Beach.

NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS

McGraw-Hill Book Co., one of the four divisions of McGraw-Hill, bought California Test Bureau in July 1965. "Our national headquarters remain here, because it is the type of operation which could be anywhere," Lapointe said.

Modern testing really got under way during World War I, and the second World War gave it another big boost.

"As education changes and focuses more on the individual," Lapointe said, "new tests are required. Emphasis on the individual learner is increasing."

Test results are being used more and more to provide teachers with useful information about their students, helping to individualize instruction, he explained. Data processing provides better evaluation of test results.

In addition to tests, the local California Test Bureau produces a variety of "programmed" instruction books, under its "Lessons for Self-Instruction in Basic Skills" series. These are paperbacks in the 88 to 148 page range, with instructional material designed for students to proceed at their own pace.

Typical are those written by Miles Midloch, including four on "Following Directions" for 4th through 9th graders and another four "Reference Skills." They are printed in unusually large, legible type, and include answers.

70-PAGE CATALOG

The company's 70-page catalog lists a variety of titles among other programmed instructional books. There are eight titles for different levels on "Reading Interpretations," 20 for "Arithmetic Fundamen-

"Industry is utilizing more tests to help with hiring decisions and to determine ability and aptitude for upgrading personnel," commented Lapointe. A few of the big corporations using California Test Bureau tests include Greyhound, Western Electric, United Fruit and major oil companies.

Although most of the tests are revised about every five years, a few have remained unchanged and are "best sellers" year after year. For example, the widely-used "MacQuarrie Test for Mechanical Ability" has remained the same since its development in 1925 by the late Dr. T.W. MacQuarrie, the president of San have upped California Test Bureau volume. U.S.-sponsored programs using its tests began in earnest with the 1962 Manpower Development Training Act and most recently received another boost from the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act "for the education of children of lower income families."

The Rhyming Philosopher

There was a time when love was passion's king,
And youth the willing slave to court its lure;
But years creep up and bring refashioning
Of young ideas to something more mature.

We cherished thoughts that in the longer run
All means to win would justify the end.
The race went not to those who jumped the gun
And overlooked the pitfalls 'round the bend.

The strong foundation makes the building stand;
No weakling structure can survive the years.
And gingerbread built on the shifting sand
Is helpless when the storm and tide appears.

Sweet youth endures but for a fleeting flight,
And age comes swiftly as the swallows call.
The brightest day gives way to meet the night
As certainly as winter follows fall.

So aim your shots to hit the target true,
And keep your ammunition fresh and dry.
While such advice to youth is hardly new,
The winner always does his best to try.

FRONT ENTRANCEWAY to shops in the new Del Dono Court at Dolores and Sixth streets in Carmel is highlighted by an impressive figure of Viscaino, the first explorer to sail into Monterey Bay. In the rear court area a unique fountain depicting a graceful piece of driftwood will have three streams of wa-

Stuttgart Orchestra to play at Sunset

Carmel Music Society will present a concert by the Stuttgart Chamber Orchestra on Feb. 22 at 8:30 p.m. in Sunset Center.

Under Karl Munchinger, its distinguished conductor and founder, the Stuttgart Chamber Orchestra has enjoyed a pre-eminent position among internationally known orchestras.

Following its debut in Stuttgart in September, 1945 the ensemble enjoyed additional triumphs throughout Germany and, a few years later, in Paris and Zurich. During the fifties the artists toured North America, South America, Japan, India, Russia, Pakistan, the Orient and South Africa. Since their last visit to America in 1959, they have toured the Scandinavian countries, Holland, Belgium, France, Italy, Austria and Switzerland.

Carmel students win honors and make Dean's List at MPC

Sterling Phillips of Carmel and Charlotte Cleis of Salinas have been named Bank of America "Man and Woman of the Year" at Monterey Peninsula College. They were selected from a group of four men and four women by a citizens' panel composed of Mark Raggett of Carmel, Dan Kohn of Monterey and Vera Moffat of Pacific Grove.

Phillips, who is 22 and married, came from St. Louis, Mo.; before moving to Carmel. He has been active at MPC in leading discussion classes and chairing student forums on current political problems. His major is political science and he is a teaching assistant. He plans to enter the teaching field.

Miss Cleis is also planning to teach in her major field of mathematics.

The two will now compete in the semi-finals against candidates from nine other colleges on Feb. 28 at the College of San Mateo. From there, the winners vie for the title of California Junior College Man and Woman of the Year in the spring.

Eunice Feekes and Walter Pilot of Carmel were among eight MPC students on the 1966 Dean's List who won "highest honors" with a straight A average in the Fall semester.

Making high honors with a grade point average from 3.5 to 3.99 were Suzanne Deatley, Allan Frey, James Holt, Lynden Mahrt, John Morrice, Gustel Orouke, Sterling Phillips and Richard Spaulding from Carmel and Mary Martin from Pebble Beach.

Unusual exhibit opens at Peninsula Museum of Art

"PLEASE TOUCH," a stimulating idea in art exhibitions opened yesterday at the gallery of the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art on Lincoln St. Sculpture, ceramics, textured hangings, wood carving and paintings included in the show are all made to touch as well as view. The pictured painting by Rada entitled "Twilight Zone," embodies dramatic textures as well as colors. Visually handicapped youngsters who "saw" the work had a variety of impressions ranging from the "monster" in the center being night and spreading out over the retreating "day," to the exact reverse with daytime being the highlight in the center and the encroaching evening surrounding it.

The carved "Madonna" was done by Peninsula sculptor H. Frederick Todd after he had lost his sight. It is displayed on a hanging by Lois Steele.

Labels in braille for the "Please Touch" show were done by the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Braille Transcribers. The exhibit will continue through Feb. 28.

Wedding plans and marriages are Valley news

Announcements made of engagements and weddings are most appropriate for the season of St. Valentine. A number of Valley couples recently announced their weddings or intended wedding plans.

Jory — Edmondson

Carol Ann Jory and Capt. James Edmondson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Edmondson of Paso Mediano, were married during the holidays in Chapel One at Travis Air Force Base.

The bridegroom spent his childhood in the Valley, attending Tularcitos School and graduating from Monterey High School in the days before the Carmel Unified School District was formed.

His bride, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Francis L. Jory of Travis Air Force Base, is a graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan College.

Capt. Edmondson took cadet pilot training at Lackland Air Force Base and received his commission at Vance Air Force Base in Enid, Okla.

He has been stationed at Travis Air Force Base, but left Jan. 31 for Japan. His wife will follow when housing is available.

St. Clair — Jackson

Lt. and Mrs. Warren Jackson are at home at 30 El Potrero Rd. following a honeymoon which began as a flight from Monterey, then on to San Francisco to Miami, San Juan Puerto Rico, St. Thomas (where they enjoyed marvelous swimming at Mogens Bay), Virgin Islands, New Orleans, and home to Carmel Valley.

The ceremony, a 12 o'clock nuptial mass, was read by Fr. James Voytko of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Catholic Church at the Carmel Mission Basilica on Dec. 17. The bride, the former Miss Yuvawn St. Clair of Carmel Valley is the daughter of Mrs. Grace St. Clair of Redwood City and O.R. St. Clair of Las Vegas. She was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. B.L. Evans, since her father was ill and unable to attend.

The groom, Lt. Warren David Jackson, U.S.N., is the son of Mrs. Emma Skultin of Buffalo, N.Y., and the late Mr. Andrew H. Jackson.

The bride's gown was of Peau d'ange lace, the fashionable cage design ending in a train over a silk-faced Peau de soie sheath. A crown of flowers gently cascading to the nape of the neck held the floor-length veil. Her pearl necklace and earrings were the gift of the groom.

LINDA ROBERTS and James Pruitt Jr. plan a November wedding. Announcement of their engagement was made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Roberts of El Caminito. James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Pruitt of Carmel.

Review:

Eminent writer and actors wasted in worn out spyodrama

By DONALD MINOR

If an American moviegoer cries to his entertainment masters, "Give me liberty or give me death," he invariably gets the latter—from boredom. Whatismore, he gets it increasingly from those films the origin of which cannot be tracked down to a single continent, let alone to poor old Hollywood. In other words, you can catch a bomb from anywhere if you are not careful.

I wasn't careful about "The Quiller Memorandum." I was guilty of expecting that, because this film featured a script by the eminent English absurdist, Harold Pinter, and starred George Segal, an actor who was effective as the young husband in "---Virginia Wolff," by Pinter's American counterpart, Edward Albee, something of originality would forthcome.

Well, I also thought Dewey would beat Truman.

This "Quiller" thing is laid—or, I should say, laid down—in that worn out spyodrama site, Berlin. It is West of being reactionary and East of being exciting.

Trip to France via film and story to start travel adventure series at Sunset Center

An hour and a half color film, "Footloose in France," will be narrated in person by its photographer, Thayer Soule, at 8:15 Friday evening in Sunset Center, Carmel. It is the first program of this year's Explorer-ama-Carmel series of travel and adventure films. Other programs of the new season, all with in person narration are: "Magnificent Greece," March 3; "Incomparable Switzerland," March 17; "Bravo, Portugal," March 31; "The New Russia," April 14.

Series tickets at $6.00 for the five films and single program tickets at $1.75 will be available at the door Friday evening or in advance from Central Box Office in Carmel, phone 624-6739 or Abinante Music Store in Monterey, phone 375-5893.

Proceeds help to provide annual scholarships to young science students

VILLEDEU-Les-Poeles, Normandy (at left), a center of copper craft for centuries, is the subject for portions of Thayer Soule's travel film, "Footloose in France," being shown Friday night at 8:15 in Sunset Center, Alec Guinness, along with Mr. Von Sydow, contributes some relief with a very professional portrayal as the Good Guys' operations chief.

Mr. Segal, though, is no help at all. He works his facial muscles to exhaustion to look tough-charming-cute, which suggests to me that maybe the name, Quiller, is intended to suggest

Three instructors offer variety of courses

Photography courses are among the most popular at Monterey Peninsula College night school. A great deal of credit is due Al Weber, well-known local photographer and the instructor who has a talent for bringing out the best in his students, whose works are on display at the College this month.

Shown here is a sampling of the works of Carmel Valley and Carmel students. The exhibit is in the library lecture hall.

Beginning this semester, Weber will have the assistance of Jerry Lebeck, who will take over instruction of the advanced photography class at MPC. Weber continues with the beginners' class.

MPC also is offering police photography, taught by Hank Gilpin of the Sheriff's Department and a well-known photographer in his own right.

Anyway, the Cold War is dead, a fact which makes this whole thing a weary periodpiece.

One commercial note: the camera, from time to time, zooms all too obviously to the Mercedes star atop an office building apparently in payment for the use of their cars in the chase scenes. Our hero Quiller drives a Porsche, but evidently the Porsche works didn't play ball, as Quiller's car is an old model and very dirty. As for General Motors, only a foreign car buff could identify their Opel in the shadows.

Under the oaks and among the cacti

By Mildred Hattan

Mr. and Mrs. J.W. "Bill" Milbourn have returned to their home, 67 Boronda Rd., after two months' vacation in the state of Washington. A charming New Year's card and letter arrived from Hazel last week announcing their return. Visits were enjoyed with many friends made during the years they lived on the Olympic Peninsula where they still own property. They noted with interest that many of the dairy farms there were being divided into retirement home-sites.

Their headquarters, as in years past, were made in Sequim with former Carmel residents, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Van Bibber, Sr., who own a motel that looks right across the bay to the lights of Victoria, B.C. Ties with their former home are so strong that it is a pleasure to welcome back these special Valleyites who will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary in October.

Dr. and Mrs. S.N. Trevino, 51 El Potrero Rd., have returned from a weekend in San Francisco where they were guests of Gen. (ret.) and Mrs. D.W. Hickey. Their friendship began when Gen. Hickey was Commandant of the Defense Language Institute, known then as the Army Language School, and Dr. Trevino was a dean at the school. The Valleyites enjoyed their visit and seeing their retirement home filled with treasures collected from all over the world during Gen. Hickey's Army career.

The weekend before their trip to the City, the Trevinos had as their house guests Dr. and Mrs. Clark Keating, formerly of Lima, Peru, and now of the University of Kentucky at Lexington. The Keatings were embarking on a "semester at sea" aboard the Chapman College Seven Seas Cruise. Three hundred students and fifty faculty members from the Orange, Calif., college are leaving a Los Angeles port and will touch such faraway places as South America, Africa and Europe before the term is completed.

Former students of Miss Lillian Hoehn, who was a popular fourth grade teacher at Tularcitos two years ago, have received exciting news of her plans for an Easter wedding. Currently teaching at Wildwood School in Palo Alto, she will finish out the school year before going to East Pakistan to live for two years. The young couple then plan to return to make their home in the Bay Area.

A birthday luncheon and a theater party combined to make the ninth birthday of David Berta a very special one. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Berta of E. Carmel Valley Rd. invited Jimmy and Greg Giordano, Skipper Gregory and Donald Corona to share the festivities planned for their son.

Individual "wishing cupcakes" were served to the guests who enjoyed an afternoon of games last Saturday at the party celebrating the sixth birthday of Kenny Morenz. Kenny, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morenz of La Rancheria, invited De Ann Peters, Angie Hoehler, Timmie Sherman, Christine Daniels, Skippy Peters and Kenny's brother, Mark, to share the celebration with him.

The night before at a grown-up dinner party, Kenny was honored by his parents, Loretta Jones of the Valley, Jim Southard of Monterey, his sister, Jerralynn, and his brother, Mark.

The Valley Bridge Club played Tuesday evening at the Community Center with the following results listed in the club's record book. Taking first place in the duplicate bridge tournament were Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Gravelle, 2nd place was won by Mrs. A.S. Bradley and Mrs. George Corrigan, and in 3rd place were Dr. and Mrs. Arlo Hanel.

Here for a month long visit from Fort Wayne, Ind., are Mr. and Mrs. S.L. Prentice who are making their headquarters at the Blue Sky Lodge. Serving as guides on their first trip to California are Mrs. Prentice's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Wade of La Rancheria.

Gary Lee Eldridge celebrated his tenth birthday Saturday with a party at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Eldridge, 69 Panetta Rd. Target practice with bows and arrows, horse shoes, and manufacturing creatures with Vacuforms entertained his guests before the traditional birthday cake and ice cream were served. Attending were Jim Allaire, Topper Pendlay and Matt Sherman.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Hattan of Klamath Falls, Ore., are spending the winter months in the Valley with their son and family, the Mark Hattans. Out-of-town guests entertained recently by the Hattans have been Mr. and Mrs. Del Rolph of San Jose, Miss Jana Langslett of Palo Alto, Mr. and Mrs. Greer Drew of Medford, Ore., and Mrs. William Young of Portland, Ore.

Best wishes to one of Carmel Valley's favorite gardeners, John Power of Country Club Way, who is recovering from surgery at the Community Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Feldman and son, Michael, of Aliso Rd., have returned from a week's vacation in the Southwest. Included in their tour were stops at Hoover Dam, Las Vegas and Phoenix, Ariz.

A former Valley resident, Jim Patnode, and Miss Cynthia Jane Kowal of Santa Cruz have announced their plans for a summer wedding. Jim is the son of Mrs. Ruth Patnode, who formerly lived on Jett Lane and Laurel Dr. and now makes her home in Pacific Grove.

Currently attending Monterey Peninsula College where he is studying for an A.A. degree in business mathematics, Jim, a 1962 graduate of Carmel High School, also attended California Polytechnic College at San Luis Obispo. His fiancée is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Kowal of Santa Cruz.

Notes to the many friends made while they were residents of the Valley were received during the holidays from Dr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Parsons and daughters of Foxridge, Tenn. Joe, engaged in a busy practice, is the only surgeon and general practitioner in an 85 mile radius of Seawee, Tenn. Ann, who still has her dancing studio, is active with drama groups and is currently doing the lead in "Mary, Mary." Lauren, a second grader, is jumping her own pony, while four-year-old Heather commutes to nursery school from the family home in Foxridge.

William C. Isaacs, Del Rio Rd., was guest speaker last week for Gonzales Union High School science students and teachers. "Pharmaceutical Research: Its Performance and Its Promise for the Future" was the topic chosen by the Valleyite in his address to an audience of 80. A graduate of Bowdoin College, Bill has done graduate work at the University of Maryland and San Jose State. He is a professional sales representative for the laboratories of the Charles Pfizer and Co., Inc.

Pet of the week

WITH HER nose in the wind for friendly advances, this tan and black pup would like very much to be someone's Valentine. She is two and a half months old, just the right age to make friends quickly.

Other Valentines, just as cute, in assorted sizes and colors may be had for the asking at the S.P.C.A. Animal Shelter at 2099 David Ave., Monterey. Just call Humane Office Gwen May at 375-3333 for an appointment to choose your own.

CONTRACT FOR THE new hotel complex at the entrance to Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club has been given to Daniels and House. The first 25 bungalow units are to be ready for occupancy by June at a cost of about $400,000 including landscaping and architects' fees. Work is not expected to commence on the central restaurant complex until the end of the year. At completion the project will include 96 units.

Chamber discusses 4-lane road

The question of four-lane plan lines for Carmel Valley Rd. bobbed up again at the Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting last Wednesday at Plaza Linda Restaurant.

Directors voted to invite County Road Commissioner Bruce McClain to a future meeting to review status of the original plan lines and plans for new connecting roads with the Monterey-Salinas highway.

Herb Brownell, who brought up the subject, pointed out that the Chamber and CV Property Owners Association had agreed on the importance of establishing plan lines for eventual widening of CV Road.

The supervisors, as a result of pressure from local residents, rescinded the plan lines.

The Chamber also eased into the problem of continuation of the Fiesta de los Amigos, which the CV Women's Club revived with great success this year and would like another organization or organizations to lead.

Pres. Ken Van Hagen of the CC and Larry Cummings, husband of the 1966 Women's Club president, agreed to contact other local organizations such as Lions and Kiwanis Clubs to determine whether they would take over direction of the Fiesta.

Next month's meeting of the Chamber, March 8, will be held at the Rancho Shopping Center, to stimulate Valley-wide interest in the organization.

Local Democrats are 'Key Women'

Mrs. John Robotti of Carmel, Monterey County Chairman of the Women's Division of the Democratic State Central Committee, was joined by Valley residents, Mrs. Robert Bussinger, Mrs. Rudolph Alt and Mrs. Henriette Millard, Mrs. Leonard Cohen of Carmel and Mrs. Martin Glasser of Monterey at a "Key Women's" Luncheon in San Francisco yesterday.

"Key Women" was organized in 1960 and is composed of leading women volunteers in the Democratic party. Former governor Pat Brown was honorary chairman of the affair, held at the Empress of China restaurant.

Valley students on Dean's List

Lisa Buchenroth and Jeanette Hogan both made the "High Honors" Dean's List at Monterey Peninsula College last semester. This requires a grade point average of 3.5 to 3.99. Strangely enough, Lisa, who is well known as folk singer, received her only B in singing.

Helene Bailey, Chris Borregaard, Thomas Brattin, Nadine Davis, Toni Deck, Richard Gardner and Richard Pryor also upheld the average of Valley students by making the honors list, with grade point of 3.0 to 3.5.

Wedding announced

Mrs. B.L. Evans, sister of the bride from Fremont, Calif., attended as her matron of honor. Her gown of empire styled mint green velvet, had three-quarter length sleeves ending in a ruffle with lace trimmed cuff. Bouquets for the four attendants were of pale green spider chrysanthemums and holly.

The bridesmaids' gowns of burgundy red velvet were of the same design. Attendants included Miss Dolores Bernards of Monterey, Mrs. Arnold Hiserman of Monterey, and Miss Virginia Miller of Pasadena. Master John Martin Colendich, Godchild of the bride, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Colendich of Watsonville served as ring bearer. He was dressed in a navy blue Eton suit.

Although rarely mentioned in the writeup of a formal wedding, the groom's attire in this case bears mentioning. Lt. Jackson wore his Navy dress blues... and a cast on his leg. The avid sky-diver, safety officer of the Parachute Club of America, landed wrong while diving last October at Balboa. Fellow divers from the club who had planned to make a drop during the reception at Del Monte Lodge were unable to obtain permission from the powers-that-be. The couple had to content themselves with a more traditional military touch, the exit from the church under an arch of swords.

Serving as best man for Lt. Jackson was Lt. Cmdr. David Siegfried Langner. The ushers were Cmdr. Robert F. Atherton, Lt. Cmdr. Jerome Redington, Lt. Cmdr. Hayes, Lt. James Walker and Lt. Gerald Dunn.

Organist for the ceremony was Diane Bloom, a friend of the bride from the music department at her alma mater, the College of Notre Dame. Helen Snider was the soloist.

The bride's mother, Mrs. St. Clair, wore a blue and green brocade sheath and matching coat. Mrs. Skultin, the groom's mother, chose a gown of pink lace with matching accessories.

The couple cut a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with bells, at the Del Monte Lodge champagne reception, where guests and the newlyweds danced to the music of George Miller's band.

The bride's going away suit was a beige silk ribbon sheath with matching jacket with collar and cuffs edged in natural mink.

Out-of-town guests arrived from Buffalo, N.Y., Clearwater, Fla., Los Angeles, Lemoore, Saratoga, Fremont, San Leandro, Watsonville and Salinas.

The Jacksons plan to make their home in the Valley until Lt. Jackson's new assignment in July. Mrs. Jackson is a teacher in the Monterey Unified School District.

Listen to Carmel Valley news every Thursday morning at 10:30 over radio station KIDD. News director Jack Parr broadcasts in cooperation with the Carmel Valley Outlook.

CARMEL HIGH SCHOOL art teacher Bill Stone (left) adds his talents to those of the drama classes in the "high Camp" presentation of "Dracula" being offered this weekend and next at the Forest Theatre-in-the-Ground. Stone plays the role of Dr. Van Helsing. Pam Speckens alternates with Caryn Ecker in the part of Lucy and Tom Weaver (right) plays Harker.

Performance time is 8:15 on Friday and Saturday nights, Feb. 17-18 and 24-25.

Seniors place in California scholar program

An even dozen Carmel High School seniors are semi-finalists in the California State Scholarship Program, Principal Warren Edwards announced this week.

Included are Mary A. Faulkner, Josephine Bow, Stephen D. Burnett, Lawrence R. Leslie, Barbara E. Coss, Adrianna M. Ricupero, Martha N. Crow, Rosalind H. Thorpe, Ronald C. Harrison, Mickey Y. Miyamoto, Carole P. Kiler and Diane G. Davis.

Finalists will be announced in April after review of transcript records and need. The state awards a total of 2,700 new scholarships annually under the program.

EXCITEMENT

"What fun are municipal bonds?"

To most investors, stocks are exciting. That's because they go up and down, reflecting all of the drama of industry. Moreover, their prices appear in the paper every day.

But consider municipal bonds. While they also fluctuate in price, municipal bonds, unlike stocks, usually just lie in a portfolio and deliver the same expected fixed income week after week, year after year. And if you regard that as rather dull, we know many who might agree with you, until we point out the following:

For an individual who earns, say, $10-thousand a year,* a 4.0% federally tax exempt yield will realize the same net as a 5.88% yield from a taxable return! In addition, tax exempts are relatively safe and readily marketable.

Isn't that exciting? We feel it is, even if you can't open the morning paper to see how you're doing.

So look into municipal bonds, and do it with Dean Witter & Co. We have one of the finest municipal bond staffs in the business, and we participate in the underwriting of virtually every major bond issue.

For our current Offering Circular, call the manager of the nearest Dean Witter office today. Or write to us at the address below.

*You reach into the 32% tax bracket if your taxable income is over $10,000 (separate return) or $20,000 (joint return).

News from Hacienda Carmel

Bill Mahon, lately of Scottsdale, Ariz., was welcomed into Hacienda Carmel as a resident on Feb. 7 at a cocktail party in the home of Carol and Roy Phelan. Bill, who is an ardent golfer and member of Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club, had an opportunity to meet many of Hacienda's golfers and their wives.

Bill came to Hacienda Carmel and the Valley as a temporary resident in the summer of 1966. He found the area much to his liking and moved to make this his permanent home when he disposed of his Scottsdale property.

Ginnie Drew presented her illustrated talk on Soviet Russia at a well-attended meeting in Casa Fiesta on Feb. 9. At one point in her talk, Mrs. Drew spoke of other presentations she has made, including appearances before the students of Middle School, where she was impressed by the questions asked by well-informed young folks of this area. Grown-ups and teenagers, alike, are much interested in the affairs of our present-day world, as indicated by the attendance at the presentations Mrs. Drew has made in this area.

The Hacienda Carmel ladies' annual shuffleboard tournament advanced one more step toward its conclusion when Mrs. Celeste Hunter defeated Mrs. Claire Wright by winning two out of three games in the semifinals. The final match for the championship will be played by Mrs. Hunter and Miss Midge Pittman.

A one-man show of paintings by Gilbert Boyer will open in Casa Fiesta on Tuesday, Feb. 21.

L' Alliance Francaise plans ball and tea

Tickets are now on sale for the Mi-Careme (Mid-Lent) dinner and costume ball sponsored by l'Alliance Francaise to be held Thursday, March 2, at the Casa Munras in Monterey.

Mrs. Leonard Klene will be hostess to the French-conversation tea for members of l'Alliance at her home in Carmel Highlands Tuesday, Feb. 21 at 3 p.m. This being the centennial of that great French writer, Romain Rolland, Mrs. James Hathaway will read from his works.

To reach the Klene home take Highway 1 past Highlands Inn about three-fourths of a mile. Turn left on Peter Pan Rd., stay on right until you come to the Klene sign on Lower Waldon Rd.

For reservation, phone Mrs. James Hathaway, 372-1138 or Mrs. Russel Cadle, 375-9242.

Volkswagen's pace-setting sunroof sedan accounts for about one-fifth of all the "beetles" sold in the U.S. because of its fun-in-the-sun and snug-as-a-bug open-and-shut feature, according to Western Motors, Monterey.

CVCountry Club to set scene for Fiesta de Ropa

The Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club will be the scene of La Fiesta de Ropa (Festival of Fashions) show and luncheon Thursday, March 2.

The event is sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary to the Monterey-San Benito Counties Medical Societies to support scholarships for three young people pursuing careers in health-oriented fields.

Mrs. James Farr is general chairman and assisting her are Mrs. John Thomas, invitations; Mrs. Robert Helfrich, reservations; Mrs. Robert Farr, awards and Mrs. W. William Keller, publicity.

A special feature of the day will be the awarding of a sable boa and a number of other prizes are planned.

Featuring the favorite recipes of local cooks.

Something special in the meat ball family of recipes is one from the collection of NOREEN DAVIS who also parts with a cooky recipe which won her second prize at the County Fair; an apple dessert for hearty winter eating and a sweet potato casserole to go with the Sunday ham.

This wonderful cook also finds time to sew for daughters Cindy, 12, Candace, 15 and Roxanne, 17. Husband Elwood Davis, builds homes on Tierra Grande and is one of the volunteers responsible for constructing the Community Chapel's Thrift Shop.

Deviled Ham Meat Balls

1 egg	1/4 t. garlic salt
1/2 cup milk	dash of pepper
1/2 cup Parmesan cheese	1 4 ounce can Underwood deviled ham
2 slices of bread, crumbled	1 lb. ground beef
2 T. salad oil

Mix altogether in a large bowl and shape into 1 inch balls after chilling in refrigerator. Brown in a large skillet and drain off any excess fat. Pour 1/2 cup evaporated milk and 1 can of beef consomme over the meatballs and sprinkle with parsley. Cover and simmer for 20 minutes. Serve with white rice or mashed potatoes and none of the wonderful gravy will go to waste.

Prize-winning Ginger Crunchies

3/4 cup butter or margarine	2 1/4 cups flour
1 cup sugar	2 t. soda
1 T. vanilla	1 t. salt
1 egg	1 t. cinnamon
1/4 cup molasses	1 t. ginger
	1 t. cloves

Mix together in order given and chill for half an hour. Shape into walnut sized balls. Roll in granulated sugar. Bake at 375 for 8 to 10 minutes. Tops will have a crinkle pattern like old fashioned ginger snaps.

Noreen's Yam Casserole

6 pared and boiled yams (on the firm side)	1/4 cup water
1 cup brown sugar	1/2 cup butter
	1/2 t. salt

Slice yams 1/2 inch thick and put into a greased casserole. Mix and melt together the rest of the ingredients and pour over yams. Cover and bake in a 350 oven for 45 minutes, basting or turning now and then. This may be made ahead to warm up later.

Now roll up your sleeves for this one:

Apple Fluden

Cookie dough:
3/4 cup soft shortening	3 cups flour
3/4 cup sugar	3/4 t. baking powder
2 eggs	1/2 t. salt
1 t. vanilla

Cream butter, gradually adding sugar and eggs one at a time. Add dry ingredients. Form into a roll and wrap in wax paper and chill while preparing the filling.

Filling:
2 T. orange juice	1/2 cup chopped blanched almonds
4 cups finely chopped apples	1 t. cinnamon
1 cup golden raisins (or regular)	1/2 t. nutmeg

Divide chilled dough into four parts. Roll each part very thin (not more than 1/8 inch thick) into an oblong shape to fit a 16" x 10" pan. Fit first layer to bottom of pan and spread with a third of fruit-nut mixture. Add another layer of dough and a layer of filling, etc. and dot top layer of dough with butter. Bake at 350 for one hour.

Glaze while warm with 1 cup powdered sugar mixed with lemon juice.

Come With Me To the Top of the World To See a Most Unusual Home

From delightful Carmel Valley Village we take one of those highly scenic county roads winding up into the hills on the North side of the Valley. We turn in a private drive and find ourselves on a broad knoll which the handsome white home shares with some of the Valley's most magnificent specimen oaks, and we also find ourselves overlooking one of the most exciting views possible.

As to the house—here is not a multi-level structure clinging perilously to the side of a cliff, but a level, rambling house with spacious rooms, beautifully integrated to its setting and its top-of-the-world view.

The house is about 10 years old. It's large (over 2500 sq. ft. plus a huge garage), has shake roof, 4 fireplaces, a master suite 35 x 22 with beautiful dressing rooms and a little study. 2 more bedrooms, a great family room with glass on two sides to encompass the views, wonderful kitchen. It's all on 1.44 acres.

Do plan to see it now while the hills are the color of fresh green peas. Soon the wild flowers will cover the slopes and then later, the golden colors of summer and the tawny browns of autumn. This is a perfect vantage point for the great show—the changing seasons. Each day, enjoy the magnificent mountain panorama from the clear bright sunny mornings with a little mist hanging in the canyons, to that incredible evening time of the blues and purples on the far hills and the canyons going all shadowy and lovely in the last of the light.

Exaggerating? Come take a look and then tell us if you think we are. The price of this property is $92,500. And while we're up there, you might also like to see a building site nearby, if you're considering both the possibility of building and buying ready-made. Believe me, it would be a pleasure to show you!
